DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 03/20/2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Joshi (US 6,627,991).

4. Regarding claim 11, Mita (e.g. fig. 5) shows a integrated circuit package comprising: a first lead frame 104; a second lead frame 100/102 laminated to a portion of a surface of the first lead frame (e.g. back) in order to create a multi layer lead frame; and a semiconductor 400 mounted to another portion of the surface of the lead frame (top portion of the right side); and a plurality of contact balls mounted on the semiconductor die.

FIG. 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Joshi (US 6,627,991) in view Takekawa et al. (US 4,714,952).

7. Regarding claim 16, Joshi shows most aspects of the instant invention except for the semiconductor die coated with at least one of titanium, tungsten, gold or a combination thereof for soldering. However, Takekawa discloses that a semiconductor die can be coated with gold to stabilize the potential to be produced at the lower surface of the substrate (col. 10/lls. 52-57). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to coat the bottom surface of the semiconductor die disclosed by Joshi with gold in order to stabilize the potential to be produced at the lower surface of the substrate as taught by Takekawa.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 12 and 15 are allowed.
9. Claims 13 and 14 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-16 have been considered but are they are not persuasive.
11. An applicant argues that Joshi does not teach a second leadframe laminated to a portion of a surface of said first leadframe. Nevertheless, Joshi (e.g. fig. 5) shows a second lead frame 100/102 laminated to a portion of a surface of the first lead frame. Note that the layer 102 can be considered part of the first or second lead frame.
